Order of Battle at Rosslau

1. On approximately 26 November 1946, the 82nd Division moved through Rosslau (E17) with the following emblem painted on the transport:

- 2. The tanks, which had recently been painted and are described as being similar to the T-34, were numbered 401 to 499 and passed in that order.
- 3. After passing through Rosslau they spread out to the local villages and remained there for one night. Upon a signal from a siren the next day, they re-assembled and returned through Rosslau.
- 4. According to local residents, the tanks came from Magdeburg and returned there, the object of the exercise being a "Propagandamarsch".
